Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Primary Health Care (Practice Stream) - Dual Diagnosis

Diploma

Content Area CM

Description The Dual Diagnosis module covers the HLT52107 Diploma of Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander Primary Health Care (Practice) from the Health Training Package (HLT07). Dual diagnosis is an important aspect in addressing Aboriginal health. The relative socioeconomic disadvantage experienced by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people compared with other Australians places them at greater risk of exposure to mental ill health, and alcohol and other drug risk factors.

The Certificate IV in Alcohol and Other Drugs Work covers workers who provide a range of services and interventions to clients with Alcohol and Other Drug issues and/or implement health promotion and community interventions. Work may take place in a range of contexts such as community-based organisations, residential rehabilitation services and outreach services. This qualification defines the knowledge and skills for Support Workers and Care-Workers who work autonomously under the broad guidance of others. This qualification refers to specific knowledge of a client with Alcohol and Other Drug issues and to appropriate intervention processes applied in residential and community settings. Workers at this level are required to have an understanding of Indigenous culture and history and to work with local communities in the provision of services.
